LOUIS NAPOLEON.

His Rumored Sickness-The Effect of his Beath in Europe.

From the New York Herald, June 5. In our issue of yesterday we published a cable dispatch to the effect that the Emperor Napoleon was sick. This is the second report to the same effect in the space of some few weeks. It will not surprise us if it turn out that the rumor has been illfounded or that the actual fact has been greatly exaggerated. True or not true, the rumor is deeply suggestive. On the life of no man living do so many consequences, probable and possible, depend. It is well cnown that for years past his health has not been good, and no one who knows the condition of France and of Europe can wonder that a rumor of the Emperor's illness is felt to be the most startling sensation of the

Were the Emperor to die at this time it is quite impossible to may precisely what Notice to Show Cause- In Bankruptcy, would or what would not follow. One thing it is safe to say—that notwithstand-ing the skill with which Louis Napoleon has managed France for nearly twenty years-France at his death would be plunged into a state of anarchy and confu-Of course his son would succeed him as Napoleon the Fourth. The Empress would be regent of the empire. Prince Napoleon in all likelihood would be a prominent member of the Council of State. Either he would or he would not; but whether honored with office and power by the Emperor's last will and testament or ignored and left aside he would be equally dangerous man to the interests of the Napoleonic dynasty. Trouble would be sure to arise in the imperial family, and this trouble would furnish the desired oportunity both to the Bonrbons and the reoublicans.

This, however, is not all. Europe from the moment of the Emperor's death would cease to be fearful of France. Italy would become bolder, Austria less cautious, Prussia more determined and Russia more aggressive. We would have the Italians again marching on Kome, Prussia hurrying forward German unity, Austria, perhaps, in civil war in consequence of the sympathies of her German subjects, and Russia pushing herself toward Constantinople. France, without a head and at the mercy of contending factions, would be so occupied with her own affairs that she would be unable to do more than enter her protest. Looking at the situation from this point of view we cannot much wonder at the importance which is attached to the Emperor's life. France has, perhaps, seen her highest point of greatness under his role. At the close of his reign France and Europe generally will come under new

MUNIFORD-THE WRONG MAN MUR-DERED BY BEAST BUTLER

The following statement is from Mrs. Dorsay's "Recollections of Henry W. Allen," Governor of Louisiana, during the late war:

It was known among us that Wm. R. Mumford was not guilty of this crime (?) was done before the city surrendered, and not done by him. General Butler's Court of Military Commission found him guilty. It must have been on circumstantial, any, evidence, because the flag was removed by Adolphus Harper, a young man of sixeen, who was harried out of the city by his alarmed friends immediately after the commission of the daring act, before Harper was aware of Mumford's capture. Harper was sent up the river near Nat-

Learning afterward of Mumford's summary execution, young Harper, in an agony of distress, tried to get back to New Or leans, in order to surrender himself to the United States authorities, in a vain thought of expatiation to the martyred Mumford. But his friends about Natchez prevented this mad boyish act-prompted by the lad's sense of honor-and at last succeeded it convincing him that it would be a uncless sacrifice of another life, which could be made valuable to the South. Harper then joined Eradford's scouts, and was killed in a skirmish about ten miles from Natchez. He is buried in Fayette. Harper's friends say he was always "under a cloud" after Mumford's death. He was very handsome, and a brave, reckless soldier.

Mrs. Dorsay adds that she besitated as to the expediency of writing this fact of history, but cast expediency aside in the presence of truth.

The New York Courses makes some strange inquiries in regard to the hanging of Mumford by Butler. That paper asks "Where was Mumford born-the Mumford whom Benjamin F. Butler hanged as New Orleans, ostensibly for insulting the American flag-that particular flag which floated over Butler's cotton customhouse Where was Mumford born? In what year did he and Col. Butler jointly run a faro bank in San Francisco? How much did Col. Butler owe Mumford when he was hung! And was he hung for the flag or the money? Who knows? Who knows his birth, history, etc.? It is getting to be nearly time o ventilate all the pleasing incidents of the twin brethren Butler in New Orleans.

We desire and request every housekeeper to see our Ten Kettles, Nance Pans, Dippers, Dish Pans, Wash Busins, Polished Fry and Stew Pans, as we are sure they have only to be seen to be appreciated.

Many of the articles are made entirely of one piece of wrometh from which, during the pro-piece of wrought iron, which, during the pro-cess of manufacture, receives several coatings of block tin; this leaves a surface, when finof block tin; this leaves a surface, when finished, perfectly smooth, easily kept clear, and entirely protected against rust. The cost is but little more than common tin ware, and every article will do ten times the service. The shape enables us to pack the various sizes in nests, so as to occupy but little space, and being but a little heavier than tin ware, the cost of transportation is very small. At present our rassortment consists in part of Tea Hettles, Camp Kettles, Mess Pans, Bish Pans, Sance Pans, Dish Kettles, Fry Pans, Ladies, Dippers, etc. etc. We are now preparing a new Catalogue and Price List, and believe Stove and Hardware Dealers will find it to their interest to send for a copy of each before purchasing elsewhere. POWDER MILL PROPERTY ROBT. THOMPSON & CO

MANCHESTER, TENN. Sale or Partnership

MR. FREDERICK WRIGHT. N ENGLISH POWDER MANUFACTE ror, is now in our city, and ready to engage services in that line. He was our Powder pronounced by them equal, if not superior, to the hest United States test. These Powder Mills were burned by the Federal forces in 1862; the dam, the stone foundations, the tail-race and heavy machinery were not injured; the dry house was not touched, and saltpetre refining kettles not injured.

Said Powder Mill property is situated at the lower cud of Stone Fort, in Coffee county, and one mile from Manchester, and has fifteen feet fall of Duck river, and secure against all floods, as the past eight years have proved.

I will sell said Powder Mill place, (except the machinery, 1,029 lbs. wrought iron machinery, 572 lbs. babbits metal, 772 lbs. brass boxes, with other smaller portions of east steel, toes, plates and set screws, etc., which I will sell for 5 cents per pound, all round. Four or five thousand dollars will put the whole concern into complete operation, capable of making 3000 lbs. of Blasting Pewder daily, and about one-third less of og Powder daily, and about one-third less of ing Pewaer dairy and above to be porting.

I will sell the whole or a part, as above stated, or I will sell the whole for a Powder Mill, and ill take a fourth, a thirdor a half interest in L. provided it be made exclusively a Powder fill. This conclusion is formed from the belief hat the Pacific railroad is sure to be built, and he further belief that the country it will pass brough will require all the powder the mill can nake, to blast out the rock, and the short experience I had in powder was proof to me of its profitableness. ofitableness.

I have some dirt and brick, but no money to o anything by myself. I will give any information to a sincere inquirer by his calling on me may 20 lw W. S. WHITEMAN.

THE VALUABLE SALINES, ituated in Washington county, Virginia, known is king's Salt Works, and the lands and buildings held therewith, for a term of five years, to commence on the 1st day of January, 1889. The lessee, in addition to the rents, will be re-quired to pay all the taxes accruing upon said property—to leave upon the property at the ex-piration of the lease, such improvments, fix-tures, furnaces, kettles, etc., as he found upon the estate at the commencement of the lease, and in good condition as he found them; and hall also, at the expiration of his lease, lea a good condition all such improvements, fi ares, furnaces, kettles, etc., as he may ha during his term put upon said land, for the mariagement of his business—and shall be limited to a supply of salt on hand at the end of the term, not exceeding a supply of the market for term, not exceeding a supply of the market be the next six menths—such amount to be see tained from the sales of the first six months; the preceding year. The lesse will be require to execute bond, with good security, to be a proved by the Court, for the payment of thaxes annually accruing, and the rents in annual installments, and for the faithful performance fall the other stipulations of the lesse, the Court reserving the right, if at any time the security becomes doubtful or insufficient security. quire the lessee to give other sufficient spe or to terminate the lesse. At a Special Ter-be held, commencing on the Utir day of 1868, the Court will fix a minimum rent. King a Salt Works are situated in Washingto county. Virginia, about eight unless from the main stem of the Virginia and Tempessee Ras road and at the terminus of the branch ro ranning from tilade Spring to Sultville, affor-ing ample railroad transportation for the shi ment of salt to market.

The salt manufactured at theseworks is of the finest quality, and the supply of brine, though the wells have been worked for more than lift; the wells have been worked for more than lift years, shows no deterioration in quality or dimination in quantity. A very large area of country, embracing parts of Virginia, Tennes see, North Carolina, theorgia, and Alabema i supplied with rail from these works and the adjoining estate, the two together supplying as increasing demand at present of about four hundred thousand bushels of salt annually. It is calded that such an opportunity is of fered for the profitable exercise of energy, and the investment of capital. Persons desiring to leave are invited to examine the projectly and
